Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

Sandown and the early money for the 1st 3 races is OK and race 1 looks open so luck will be needed with races 2 & 3 these races look predictable but still an element of luck will be needed so apply a little caution early with race 4 onward's the early money is Good and there is value here in these races but good luck will be needed so move forward with hope and a certain sense of caution. Hobart and the early money for the 1st 3 races is Low but even so these races look fairly obvious so a good start to Hobart if you like short priced favorites hopefully with races 4 onward's the barely OK so take this meeting on trust so hopeful but not completely confident. Grafton and the early money for the 1st 3 races is just OK and these races look predictable but a little touch of luck may be needed so a cautious start to the day is recommended with races 4 onward's the early money is Good and there is some value on this card so hopeful of the best as there are seemingly options here. Morphettville and the early money for the 1st 3 races is OK and race 1 looks obvious with race 2 being an open affair so luck will be needed and race 3 looks predictable so hopes are high with races 4 onward's the early money is Good and there does look to be some positives about these races so hopeful. Warwick Farm and the early money for the 1st 3 races is OK and these races look predictable so hopeful of a decent start here today with races 4 onward's the early money is Good and there is potential here with some decent prospects engaged so hopeful. Ipswich and the early money for the 1st 3 races is Low but even so the 1st 3 favorites should really win unless something really goes wrong with races 4 onward's the early money is Good but it is going to be a big job to find value with these remaining races. Belmont and the early money is Low so use your best judgment with these early races with races 4 onward's the early money is again Low so take these races on trust and use some sense of caution.

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

Ipswich and the early money for race 1 is soft but the result looks obvious with races 2 and 3 also being soft in early betting with race 2 looking fairly obvious and race 3 looks predictable with races 4 onward's the early money is OK and the races generally looks fairly well predictable but an element of luck will be needed so push forward with a little caution. Canterbury and the early money for the 1st 3 races is OK and these are open affairs so a little luck is going to be required to navigate these events successfully with races 4 onward's the early money is OK but some luck will be needed with these races so as always hopeful of some nice results but somewhat cautious at the same time. Sandown and the early money for the entire meeting is good and there is a good mix of real chances and value runners so there are possibilities for this meeting so will be watching with interest and hopefully the right luck will present. Murray Bridge and the early money for the 1st 2 races is soft but they do look really predictable unless something really goes wrong so it should be a good start to the day hopefully with race 3 being light in early money but one of the favored runners should win but which one will it be with races 4 onward the early money is just OK and luck will be needed with these races so hopeful but forever cautious. And finally Belmont and the early money is low but there are some positive chances engaged so all is not lost and there is hope for today but do exercise a little caution.

- The Top 5 Suggested Bets below are the best bets of the day I think are of the best value and they are put there with the absolute clear intention that they will win, but if this happens or not is up to the laws of chance and the elements of luck & fate.

1. Special Suggested Bets Of The Day:

Balaklava Race 3 Multi Exacta:

Final Result - A winner and paid out at $49.20 for 200%

2. Where The Money Is: Those runners which stand out as being well supported early.

Ipswich Race 8 No 15 Dansez at $9.00 and someone has a little interest in this one early in betting so might be worth a little note.

Final Result - Finished 1st

3. Best Longshot's Of The Day:

Balaklava Race 8 No 4 Eclair Fiesta at $10.00 and this one has attracted a bit of interest early in betting and is 2nd up from a spell today so might be ready to fire and so I hope.

Final Result - Finished 3rd

Race 6 No 6: Sidero Star at $8.00 and Race 6 No 12: Nivo at $26.00

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

Balaklava and the early money for the 1st 3 races is at an OK level and really in all honesty the favored runners really do look to have the best chances early with races 4 onward's the early money is OK to good and there does really look to be a lot of favored priced runners with good chances running today so hopeful of a good afternoon in Adelaide. Echuca and the early money for the 1st 3 races is good and I can't foresee that much going wrong early so bright times early might be anticipated with races 4 onward's the money is good and there does look to be some value in today's selections so hopeful of seeing some good results so quite optimistic. Ipswich and the early money for the 1st 3 races is fair and punters seem to have a little bit of an eye on the prize early so am watching these early races with some anticipation with races 4 onward's the early money is good and there are a mix of short priced runners which should really win right to value runners at decent prices so its a bit of a mixed bag so hopeful with a touch of caution. Canterbury and the early money for the 1st 3 races is fair and on paper it does look pretty much straightforward but that may not be the case so view these early races a bit cautiously with races 4 onward's the early money is good and there does look to be value in these races and the selections reflect this so hopeful of some good outcomes here today. And finally Belmont and the early money is soft and I am not that keen on this meeting today so quite a bit of luck is going to be needed to navigate it.

The stable has the following runners today at Toowoomba.

Race 4 No 9: Protest at $3.90

Final Result - Finished 1st

Race 8 No 6: Robbers Cobber at $31.00

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

Toowoomba and the early money for the 1st 3 races is just OK but I honestly can't see much going wrong early as the favored chances do honestly look like the best chances today with races 4 onward's the early money is strong and there is bright prospects for these races which may turn into a really good day for win bettors. Sandown and the early money for the 1st 3 races is good and they do look like open races early so a little luck may be required so hopeful but a little bit gun shy at the same time with races 4 onward's the early money is strong and punters seem to be navigating toward's value in these races and the selections reflects this. Strathalbyn and the early betting interest in the 1st 3 races is limited and I would be using a little caution here so hopeful but not absolutely confident but I have been surprised before with races 4 onward's the early betting interest is strong and these races have potential so I am looking forward to seeing how these races fair. Warwick Farm and the early money for the 1st 3 races is good and I would not expect any results outside the favored runners here early so there is promise with races 4 onward's the early money is strong and these are open races so a little bit of care may be needed but hopeful for the best. And finally Belmont and the early money is low but even so I feel today has real potential so keep a close eye on this meeting today as it very well may surprise.

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

Sandown and the early betting interest is good so the day holds promise so I feel there is hope for this meeting today and I am generally happy with today's selections. Gold Coast and the early betting interest for the 1st 4 races is soft and then from races 5 onward's it starts to hot up early money wise and punters are going for value today and that reflects in the srlections and I hope they are right. Canterbury and the early money is pretty OK and it seems to be suggesting that today could quite well be a favored runners day and I would tend to agree. Gawler and the early money is OK and again it seems to be suggesting a short priced winners day and I will again agree and let's hope that is the case. And finally Belmont and the early betting activity is next to nothing but on the upside it does really look like a win bettors day which is a good thing so hopes are high.

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

Ipswich and the 1st 3 races are low in early betting interest and then from race 4 its starts to hot up a little so hopeful of a decent afternoon although Ipswich can be sometimes tricky so I am feeling OK about today's meeting so I would approach it with some sense of confidence. Warwick Farm and the early betting interest is good and its really is looking like this meeting might turn into a favored runners day so it could be a win bettors dream and time will tell the true story. Sale and the early money is good and punters look to be shopping for a bit of value today and I hope there on the right track. Balaklava and the early money is just OK but on the upside there really are a lot of short priced runners which really should be winning so this meeting has the potential to be a win bettors dream come true with just a little bit of luck needed. And finally Belmont and the early money is unexciting but on the plus there are a lot of short priced runners that should win so that gives hope to win bettors.

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

Sandown and the early betting money is OK and this meeting has 2 possible outcomes either brilliant or plain poor and at this stage I am unsure how it will fair so watch the results closely to see if any betting patterns occur so it is with cautious optimism that I approach this meeting today. Warwick Farm and the early money is OK and punters seem to be shopping for value today and I hope they are right and time will tell but as always watch the results carefully and make your move from there with some sense of confidence. Sunshine Coast and again the early money is OK and once again punters seem to be shopping for value so play with confidence but also with a little caution and we shall see how the wind blows. Murray Bridge and the early money is OK and there should be a lot of short priced runners winning today which is a plus and it is what I hope will happen but as mentioned numerous times today watch the results for any patterns and go from there. And finally Ascot and the early money is light but on the upside there really should be a lot of short priced winners at this meeting but as always which is the theme for today use a little caution.

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

The Gold Coast and there is little interest in early betting for the 1st 3 races but the favorites look to have the best chances but really anything is possible early so use a little caution until the real racing day begins and punters get a little more serious, with the Gold Coast Races 4 onward's and again the early money and interest is low so use caution, watch the results and take on trust. Warwick Farm and the early money is good and I have high hopes for this meeting today but always as is usual use your best judgement and keep your eyes on the results for any patterns. Sandown and the early betting interest is strong and this is another meeting I am keen on today with value to be found in the selections so very optimistic. Balaklava and once again today the early betting interest is very good and I think there might be value to be found here so will be watching with interest so quite keen. Canberra and there is never any early betting interest for this track so take on trust and some caution is advised as not completely convinced about today's chances here. And finally Ascot and there is little early money interest early so again take on trust.

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook:

Canterbury and the early money is good and punters seem keen early but do they have their eyes on the prize well I hope so and am looking forward to this meeting with interest, but as always watch the results as Sydney midweek can sometimes be a bit of a trap but overall I am happy with today. Warrnambool and again the money is good but just watch the results today to see if any betting patterns emerge but I am keen about this meeting and it does seem to have some promise. Strathalbyn and the early money is good and punters seem to be looking for value today and I hope they have found it so it is with interest that I am following today's Adelaide meeting as there may well be promise there. Toowoomba and the early money is OK to good at different stages and once again it does look like an interesting day on paper so watch the results carefully here and move forward from there but I will say I am once again today keen on the potential of this meeting. And finally Ascot and there is no early money around so let the results be your best guide with this meeting so there is some caution required.

- The Top 5 Suggested Bets below are the best bets of the day I think are of the best value and they are put there with the absolute clear intention that they will win, but if this happens or not is up to the laws of chance and the elements of luck & fate.

1. Special Suggested Bets Of The Day:

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook: Flemington and the early money is solid and the meeting does look deceptively easy on paper so pay a little caution to this and keep your eyes on the results and move forward from there. Randwick and the early betting interest is good and there really are a lot of short priced runners today that have been well supported and should really win but as usual time will tell and I am hopeful of a good day at this meeting. Gawler and the early betting money is OK and there does look to be some value there today especially with exotics. Beaudesert and the early betting money is really low but with these country meetings there seems to be always value to be found so watch the results to see if any patterns emerge. Bathurst and the early betting money is low actually extra low but there are a lot of short priced favorites engaged there today which might be stifling betting interest so watch the results and try and shop for value in between the lines. Gosford and again the early betting interest is low but there are a lot of favorites at this meeting which should simply win. Moe & Avoca and the early interest is limited but there can be value found at meetings like these so watch the results carefully and make a move from there. Kalgoorlie and the early money is zero so real caution is advised for this meeting. Darwin and the early money is low so watch the results and make a move from there if things look promising. And finally Ascot and there is no early money interest but it is a day filled with short priced favorites.

- The Top 5 Suggested Bets below are the best bets of the day I think are of the best value and they are put there with the absolute clear intention that they will win, but if this happens or not is up to the laws of chance and the elements of luck & fate.

1. Special Suggested Bets Of The Day:

Murray Bridge Race 4 Banker Exacta:

So its 12 for 1st
and 10, 4, 6 for 2nd.

2. Where The Money Is: Those runners which stand out as being well supported early.

Murray Bridge Race 8 No 3 Bungalally Belle at $9.00 and there is support for this one early in the betting which might be worth a quick note as it has been working clearly towards a win and hopefully today is the day.

Total Cost: $13 buys a 5% share of the dividend.

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook: Murray Bridge and the early money is a little slow to roll today but in saying this there are a lot of short priced runners which are clearly supported early so I would expect them to do well. Sandown and the early money is good as you would expect and the punters have their eye firmly on the prize with a lot of well supported runners so generally happy with today's selections for this meeting and hopefully some value will flow forward from there. Randwick and the early money is generally OK with a clear pointer towards the selections and generally happy although Wednesday Randwick meetings can sometimes be a trap so watch the results and make a move from there with a little caution required. Ipswich and the early money is OK with the 1st 4 races looking generally straight forward with more value to be hopefully found in the last 4 races but time will tell so keep an eye on the results to see if any patterns emerge. And finally Ascot and the early money is really low so and I am not keen on this meeting so watch the results and go from there with some caution advised.

- The Top 5 Suggested Bets below are the best bets of the day I think are of the best value and they are put there with the absolute clear intention that they will win, but if this happens or not is up to the laws of chance and the elements of luck & fate.

1. Special Suggested Bets Of The Day:

Warwick Farm Race 6 Banker Exacta:

Race 8: 5, 13, 11, 8

Total Cost: $13 buys a 5% share of the dividend.

Wednesdays Predicted Betting Outlook: Ipswich and the early starting time meetings are never popular and the money starts to heat up in the later races so watch the results and go from there. Warwick Farm & Sandown and both meetings look interesting and I am generally happy with today's ratings at these venues so hopeful for the best outcome but as always watch the results closely and make a move from there using instinct. Balaklava and the early money is good and the punters are on the favorite runners so I would not predict too many surprises there today. Ascot and the early money is really low and I am not keen on this meeting so watch carefully and see what happens.

And finally Bunbury where the money is really light early so again watch the results and bet from there.
